

Communications Specialist

Background & Company Description:

Founded in 1995, ColorShadow Communications Inc. is an online solutions provider. Our list of services includes consulting, creative and design, and technical services. Students.org is a site dedicated to engaging, enlightening, and empowering university and college students.

Position:

Our company is currently seeking a Communications Specialist to work on writing initiatives for Students.org.

The successful applicant would provide services that may include:

- Brainstorming and researching topics relevant to students, generally post-secondary
- Interviewing sources both by phone and in person
- Writing both formal articles and informal blog posts on various topics

Requirements:

- Familiarity with formal and informal writing
- Interest in developing writing skills
- Creative, think-outside-the-box mentality
- Independent worker
- Self-starter
- University student preferred

The Communications Specialist position offers the opportunity to gain valuable experience in online marketing, social media, online publications and editorial work. This is a part-time, unpaid position. Start and end date to be determined.

Location:

The successful applicant would report directly to the Marketing Manager via online communication.

Submissions:

Please send resume and cover letter to the attention of Lisa Menara, Marketing Manager, ColorShadow Communications, Inc.

Fax: 416-977-6919

Email: info@students.org

We thank you in advance for your submission, but note that only selected applicants will be contacted.